

The Economics of Low-Carbon Markets Conference

December 16-17th, 2013

Ribeirão Preto, Brazil

The Economics of Low-Carbon Markets Conference aims at stimulating discussions among international researchers in the field of Environmental and Energy Economics and closely related areas such as Industrial Organization and Transport Economics.

The scientific committee welcomes theoretical, empirical and policy-oriented contributions addressing environmental choices, energy efficiency and related topics. The social programme will include a visit to a sugar cane plantation and a sugar cane mill in one of the leading countries when it comes to biofuels, Brazil, allowing participants to learn how they are produced.

Confirmed Speakers

Antonio Bento (Cornell University) ◦ Eugenio Miravete (University of Texas at Austin)
